

Communication Skills Assignment

Task 1: Positive Communication

The table below shows how negative thoughts or statements can be changed into constructive and positive ones.

Negative Statement	Positive Statement
I keep getting this wrong.	I can improve by continuing to practice.
I'm not good enough for this role.	I can develop the skills required for this role.
I failed badly.	This experience helped me learn something useful.
I don't have what I need to finish this.	I can look for alternative solutions or resources.
No one informed me about this update.	I will request to be included in future updates.
This task feels overwhelming.	I can complete it step by step.
I lack the required knowledge.	I can learn or seek guidance.
This challenge is beyond me.	This challenge will help me grow.
I've never tried this task before.	This is a new learning opportunity.
I'm not sure about the answer.	I don't know yet, but I will find out.

Task 2: Freelancer Communication Scenarios

1. Client Submitted Information Late

Thank you for your message. I noticed that the required information was sent after the agreed deadline. I will start working on it immediately and aim to complete it as soon as possible.

2. Client Provided Incorrect Information

Thank you for sharing the details. Some of the information may need clarification or correction. Could you please confirm the accurate details so I can proceed correctly?

3. Client Is Upset Due to Delay

I understand your concern and sincerely apologize for the delay. The delay occurred because the necessary information was received later than expected. Thank you for your patience, and I am prioritizing your task.

Task 3: Types of Questions

The following questions are categorized based on their type.

Question	Type
What steps should I take to register?	Open
So this workshop will help improve my freelancing skills, right?	Leading
How do freelancers usually manage client communication?	Open
This platform is easy to use, isn't it?	Leading
Did you complete the agreement yesterday?	Closed
Can you explain what you mean by delivery deadline?	Probing
Would you like me to schedule the meeting now?	Closed
Who was responsible for reviewing the final file?	Probing
What do you hope to achieve after this training?	Open
What happened when you attempted to access your Fiverr account?	Probing

Task 4: Body Language Examples

The table below highlights examples of positive and negative body language in communication.

Positive Body Language	Negative Body Language
Smiling naturally	Folding arms tightly
Maintaining eye contact	Avoiding eye contact
Sitting upright	Slouching
Nodding to show understanding	Sighing repeatedly
Leaning forward while listening	Using phone while someone is speaking
Calm facial expressions	Frowning or scowling
Open hand gestures	Tapping fingers impatiently