

task1

my Positive Communication

I always mess this up.

→ I'm still learning

"I am not made for this job."

→ I'm developing my skills

"I have made a stupid mistake."

→ I'm taking steps to correct my mistake and learn from it."

"I don't have the resources."

→ "I may need additional resources"

"I am left out of the email thread. No one tells me anything."

→ "I may be missing some context—could I be included in future updates?"

"This is too complicated."

→ "This is complex, so I'll break it into smaller, manageable steps."

"I don't have the expertise."

→ "This is an area where I'm building expertise and may need support."

"This is pushing the limits of my abilities."

→ "This is stretching my skills, which is an opportunity to grow."

"I have never done this before."

→ "This is new to me, and I'm ready to learn how to do it."

“Sorry, I don’t know!”

→ “I don’t have that information yet, but I can find out.”

-----

task2

Activity: As a freelancer, what would you say to a client in the below scenarios?

Scenario 1: The client didn’t send the request on time

“I received the request on [date]. Based on the updated timeline, the revised delivery date would be [new date]. Let me know if that works for you.”

Scenario 2: The client sent incorrect information

“I need clarification for some details before I proceed. Once I have the correct information, I’ll be able to move forward right away.”

Scenario 3: The client is upset because of the delay

“I understand your worry, and I appreciate your patience. I’m working on resolving this and will keep you updated on next steps.”

-----

task3

How can I apply for the opportunity?

→ Open Question

So, you are saying that this session is beneficial to my freelance career?

→ Probing Question

How can a freelancer communicate effectively with clients?

→ Open Question

Your service is very efficient, don't you think?

→ Leading Question

Did you face any challenges while signing the contract?

→ Closed Question

What exactly do you mean by Project Timeline?

→ Probing Question

Would you like me to go ahead and add you to the session?

→ Closed Question

Who exactly worked on this task?

→ Closed Question

What are your expectations when this session ends?

→ Open Question

Ok. So, what exactly happened when you tried to log into your Upwork account?

→ Probing Question

